Archbishop of Newark

Chair, Board of Regents

University President

Hazard Zet Forward

In his diary for 25 June 1857, Bishop James Roosevelt Bayley wrote: “Yesterday we held the first Commencement of Seton Hall College. ... The weather was beautiful ... everything went off well.”

Faced with a dilemma — how to educate his immigrant flock — Bayley, the first Bishop of Newark, opted in 1856 for the formation of a college that would enable Catholics in New Jersey to achieve their rightful place in society.

Since that time, the College’s original student body of five has grown to more than 10,000. Today, Seton Hall is the largest and one of the oldest diocesan universities in the United States and has overcome numerous challenges during its storied history. It survived a move from its original home in Madison, New Jersey — currently the site of the College of Saint Elizabeth — to South Orange; a Civil War that forced many similar institutions to close; several disastrous fires; four major international wars; and at least five economic depressions — all menaces to the existence of any institution. The College, named in honor of Saint Elizabeth Ann Seton, aunt of Bishop Bayley, endowed only with the dedication of generations of devoted scholars and administrators, managed not only survival, but growth and academic distinction.

In successive expansions, the College converted its original mansion and adjacent buildings to a fully developed campus; grew from one school to eight — the College of Arts and Sciences, Stillman School of Business, College of Nursing, Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology, School of Health and Medical Sciences, School of Diplomacy and International Relations, School of Law and, most recently, the College of Human Development, Culture, and Media.

Over the years, the University transitioned from an exclusively male institution to one proudly coeducational; rose from granting bachelor’s degrees to the conferring of doctoral degrees in science, education, nursing, medicine and health sciences; expanded from the personal library of the president to Walsh Library, which houses more than 1 million volumes; and evolved from an exclusively clerical institution to one in which clergy and laity join talents and energy to provide exemplary instruction.

For 170 years, Seton Hall’s mission has been to form servant leaders, to develop the whole student. Seton Hall challenges students to improve the world through excellence, integrity, compassion and service. To keep abreast of the expanding horizons of its scholars and professors and to address the spiritual and social needs of a growing student body, the University has expanded its facilities, combining the resources of a large university with the personal attention of a small liberal arts college. In 2018, Seton Hall opened a new Interprofessional Health Sciences campus in Nutley and Clifton, New Jersey, which houses the College of Nursing and School of Health and Medical Sciences. By training students in a team-based environment that mirrors how modern medical facilities operate, the University established a new national model for healthcare education.

Recent campus improvements have included the transformation of the Bishop Dougherty University Center, an addition to Boland Hall and a new basketball practice facility at the Richie Regan Recreation and Athletic Center.

In faculty research and publication; in the alumni who have contributed immeasurably to the economic, political and educational life of the state and the nation; in the creation of institutes that have expanded the horizons of the University to include a wide range of pursuits; in the increase of grants and awards won on the basis of achievement and anticipated research success, the University proclaims a suitably bold theme

FORWARD IN FAITH

The University Crest

A crest or coat of arms is intended to provide instant recognition. The Seton Hall University crest goes far back into antiquity. Associated as it is with both the Seton and Bayley families and with the Archdiocese of Newark, one would expect to discover in the present University crest some indication of all three relationships.

Because the University traces its relationship to the Seton family, the original Seton devices are on the crest. The three crescents, referring to the “Sea-Towns” of which the family was the warden, and the Charge, that is, the motto, Hazard Zet Forward, have been carried into the present crest.

The wavy band across the head of the crest refers to the Archdiocese of Newark, which uses a crest with three such bands to indicate the three rivers associated with the See of Newark: the Hudson, the Passaic and the Hackensack.

The book surmounting the crest is the usual symbol for an institution dedicated to the pursuit of learning. On the open book are superimposed the three globes taken from the crest of Archbishop Bayley, the founder of the University.

So the amended crest, created during the presidency of Bishop Dougherty, bears the symbol of the Seton family and of Saint Elizabeth Ann Bayley Seton for whom the University was named, together with the motto — as significant now as it was 1,000 years ago — Hazard Zet Forward (in spite of all hazards, go forward); the symbol of Archbishop Bayley, the founder; the symbol of the Archdiocese, whose Archbishop is chairman of the Board of Trustees; and the open book, universal symbol of colleges and universities.

Academic Costume

Academic costume is nearly eight centuries old. In medieval Europe, townspeople wore clothing of distinctive materials and colors to indicate their positions in life — their wealth or status, their guilds or professions. It was only natural, therefore, when students in the medieval universities of Paris, Bologna, Oxford and Cambridge began to organize into guilds, that they would develop distinctive costumes for bachelors (apprentices), masters (teachers) and doctors (teachers who had completed post-graduate study). Distinctions appeared most in the hoods.

American usage has been standardized by an intercollegiate code, which takes the Oxford costume as a starting point. The bachelor’s gown has long, pointed sleeves, and the master’s gown has oblong sleeves, open at the wrist. Both are untrimmed. The doctor’s gown has round, open sleeves, with three bars of velvet and velvet facing. The gown is normally black, but some institutions have adopted colored gowns.

The black cap, or mortarboard, also derives from the Oxford costume. The tassel, usually black, is worn on the right side before the conferral of the bachelor’s degree and then is worn on the left. A gold tassel indicates doctors and presidents.

The Legend of the Stole of Gratitude

Every graduate has had a special person who, through moral or financial support, made a big difference in his or her life. The Seton Hall University Stole of Gratitude offers an opportunity to say, “Thanks for helping me make it through.” “Thanks for making it possible for me to succeed.” “I didn’t do this alone.”

The Seton Hall Stole of Gratitude is worn during the graduation ceremony.

After the ceremony, the new graduate presents the Seton Hall Stole of Gratitude to someone who provided extraordinary support or who has helped with wisdom, words of encouragement, or financial assistance. Immediately after graduation, the graduate may take the stole from around his/her neck and place it around the neck of the recipient.

Presenters often write a few words of love and appreciation on the back of the Stole using a permanent, fine-tipped marker. Friends and family of the graduate may autograph the front or back. The Seton Hall Stole of Gratitude is a lasting symbol of love, appreciation and academic accomplishment.

The Mace

The mace, which is carried by the Grand Marshal, is a symbol of authority.

Honors Program

The Honors Program, designed for students of exceptional ability, requires successful completion of colloquia and seminars throughout the undergraduate experience.

Honors Graduates

SUMMA CUM LAUDE

Undergraduate students who have earned a cumulative grade point average of 3.895 to 4.0 on a 4-point grading system are recognized as graduating Summa Cum Laude (with highest honors). Red tassels will be awarded to all Summa Cum Laude graduates to be worn on Commencement Day to designate this level of achievement. Red and gold tassels designate University Honors Program graduates.

MAGNA CUM LAUDE

Undergraduate students who have earned a cumulative grade point average of 3.595 to 3.894 on a 4-point grading system are recognized as graduating Magna Cum Laude (with high honors). Blue tassels will be awarded to all Magna Cum Laude graduates to be worn on Commencement Day to designate this level of achievement. Blue and gold tassels designate University Honors Program graduates.

CUM LAUDE

Undergraduate students who have earned a cumulative grade point average of 3.395 to 3.594 on a 4-point grading system are recognized as graduating Cum Laude (with honors). White tassels will be awarded to all Cum Laude graduates to be worn on Commencement Day to designate this level of achievement. White and gold tassels designate University Honors Program graduates.

SPECIAL NOTE

Honors eligibility is calculated using all semesters of academic work at Seton Hall University. For May 26 graduates, this program contains projected honors levels based upon data available as of May 2, 2026. The University reserves the right to adjust the honors level for any student to reflect the inclusion of Spring 2026 grades.

Commencement Speaker and Honorary Degree Candidates

Arthur C. Brooks, Ph.D.

Best Selling Author

■ Arthur C. Brooks, PhD, is a social scientist and one of the world's leading authorities on human happiness. He is a professor, columnist with The Free Press, podcast host, CBS News contributor, and internationally-acclaimed public speaker. He is the author of 16 books, including the #1 New York Times bestseller The Meaning of Your Life, Build the Life You Want (co-authored with Oprah Winfrey), and From Strength to Strength. He lives with his family in Virginia.

Diane M. Foley

President and Founder of the James W. Foley Legacy Foundation

■ Diane M. Foley is a mother of five children and a retired family nurse practitioner, whose oldest son, American conflict journalist, James Wright Foley, was beheaded by ISIS in Syria 2014 for being an American journalist and Christian. The inspirational HBO documentary, Jim: The James Foley Story, recounts his ordeal.

After his horrific murder, she was inspired by Jim's moral courage and the Holy Spirit to start the James W. Foley Legacy Foundation to inspire the moral courage to advocate for freedom for U.S. nationals taken captive abroad and to safeguard journalists. Since 2015, she has been a leading advocate for Americans held captive abroad, working with U.S. Congress and successive presidential administrations to establish a U.S. hostage enterprise that helped free over 200 fellow Americans from captivity abroad and has strengthened journalist safety education.

Diane is also the co-author of American Mother with Irish American author Colum McCann, which is a memoir about her deep Catholic Christian faith that has sustained and challenged her advocacy, moral courage, and forgiveness. In September 2015, she had the honor of meeting Pope Leo XIV and speaking at St. Peter's Basilica in the Vatican about her spiritual journey and hostage advocacy. She earned her baccalaureate and master's degree in nursing at the University of New Hampshire and was given an honorary Doctor of Letters from Marquette University in 2025.

Student Speakers

The Commencement Speakers Committee, chaired by Autumn Bucior, Assistant Provost for Academic Services and University Registrar, and comprised of a faculty member from each of Seton Hall's schools and colleges, invited the student with the highest GPA from each college and school to participate in a process to select a Valedictorian. These students were asked to write and deliver a commencement address reflecting on the meaning of their Seton Hall experience and how it has led to a special vision for the future. The student with the most highly ranked speeches, based on both content and delivery, was chosen to give the Valedictory address. A first alternate and second alternate speaker were also chosen.

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

Leo Chu '26

College of Arts and Sciences

■ Leo Chu, of Castro Valley, California, is graduating with a double major in Biology and Anthropology from the College of Arts and Sciences. At Seton Hall, he championed mentorship and service as a supplemental instructor and student coordinator at the Academic Resource Center, through roles with the Pre-Professional Advising Center and the Biology Society, and through volunteerism at St. John's Soup Kitchen. Focused on underserved medicine, he explored the interactions between health and demography through anthropological research and served as a student editor for Locus: The Seton Hall Journal of Undergraduate Research. After graduation, Leo will attend the University of California, San Francisco School of Medicine and pursue his passion for healthcare for underserved populations.

FIRST ALTERNATE SPEAKER

Jacqueline J. Litowinsky '26

College of Human Development, Culture, and Media

■ Jacqueline Litowinsky, of Belmar, New Jersey, is a double major in Public Relations and Journalism in Seton Hall University's College of Human Development, Culture, and Media. She has served as president and Litore Director of SHU's PRSSA chapter, reporter and editor for The Setonian, and secretary of SHU's SPJ chapter, earning two Mark of Excellence Award nominations. Jacqueline was inducted into Lambda Pi Eta and Delta Epsilon Sigma's Alpha Mu chapter and named Student of the Year by Seton Hall's Center for Sports Media. After graduation, she will join CNBC as a Digital Rotational Associate.

SECOND ALTERNATE SPEAKER

Jacob N. Hummel '26

Stillman School of Business

■ Jacob Hummel is from Dunellen, New Jersey, and is graduating as a double major in Finance and Information Technology. During his time at Seton Hall, he was involved on campus as a member of the Buccino Leadership Institute and served as a Resident Assistant. Within the Stillman School of Business, he participated in several organizations, including serving as President of the Stillman Exchange and as an analyst for the Student Managed Investment Fund. Jacob completed his coursework in December and currently works at Prudential Financial on the Private Equity allocation team, a role he will continue following graduation.

Student Singer

Douglas Vail '27

College of Arts and Sciences

■ A rising junior, Douglas Vail is double majoring in Political Science and Economics. In pursuing his lifelong love, he is also minoring in Music. At Seton Hall, he has had a number of musical opportunities – performing as a tenor in both the Chamber and University Choirs, as well as solo performances of the national anthem and classical works such as “Every Valley” from Handel’s Messiah. This past year, venues included St. Patrick’s Cathedral, Lincoln Center and the Elizabeth Ann Seton Shrine in Maryland. Over the summer, upcoming destinations will include Carnegie Hall in New York City and Ocean Grove in Asbury Park. He wishes all this year’s graduates happiness, purpose and every blessing in the fantastic things they will go on to accomplish. Hazard Zet Forward.
